

Essay from the bold pastor
#285 - A Fun Principal –

Geoffrey Miller is a principal of a high school located in Racine, Wisconsin. One early morning in April, he saw two boy students wearing matching pairs of showy jeans at the high school that appeared as if a big splash of white paint got over them. He commented "Wow, those are neat!" As they were talking about them, the students led the principal to join by offering; "What is your size? We will go get yours too." As soon as Geoffrey told his size, he has forgotten about the conversation they just have had already, but there was a call for him to go see the classroom on the lunch break. While handing over a pair of jeans in the shopping bag saying, "here you are!", they told that a teacher went out to buy those jeans, and everyone cracked up with laughter.

Later, Geoffrey wore the pair of jeans and joined with the boys to have lunch, and later the three walked throughout the campus together with a big smile on their faces. People were giving thumbs to them with laughter, as students took photos with their cell phones. The twitter went viral with 17,000 shares. Geoffrey spoke with enthusiasm saying, "I am really surprised that everyone enjoyed so much. This have become a great memory for the students, and for us as well." Also, for the other teachers, they have learned about the troubled educational systems, and of a perspective from SNS. The Bible says;

"For though I am free from all men, I have made myself a slave to all, so that I may win more. ... To the weak I became weak, that I might win the weak;
I have become all things to all men, so that I may by all means save some."

1 Corinthians 9:19, 22 NASB

This shows and teaches how mentality; not only for Christians, but also for all the mankind should be at. Today, we either ignore or criticize the others who they think they are different from one another. Every individual fight for their own rights resulting in all claiming for their own interest. This is not something that could be resolved with love of humanity, or by some religion. However, this is only being made possible by accepting Jesus into our hearts, who came down from heaven and have forgiven our sins by being lifted upon the cross. This brings the unity and harmony, and it is the only way how it brings joy and laughter that will spread beyond our boundaries. 05/27/2017.

